An integral part of any college campus, of course, is its buildings in which classes, and numerous other gatherings are held.

One of the most versatile of these at GSC is Bunce Hall.

Students absorbed in intense study, quiet reading, or extensive research seem to congregate at the Savitz Resource Center, GSC's library.

In addition to attending classes, GSC students assemble in the Winan's Dining Hall.

GSC also boasts the Westby Art building in which many art, home economics, and industrial arts classes are held.

Glassboro State College, by virtue of being a large campus draws a variety of people to its sporting events.

The quality of Glassboro's sporting events has warranted attention and this year was no exception. It can be noted that the up-surge of successful baseball, track, frisbee and soccer teams has injected new excitement into Glassboro's community.

But let's also give recognition to the other sports events the men and women have contributed to.

Spring Weekend 1980, the tribute to a college students most coveted season, ran from April 24th to the 27th.

Along with Spring Weekend, were organized events and concerts.

The big event was Beaver Brown who gave an indoor concert in the student center ballroom.

Despite stiff winds and threatening rains several hundred students braved the adverse weather conditions that afternoon to attend the concert.

CONCERTS

"LIVE FROM GLASSBORO:"

The student center at Glassboro State College was filled with music and laughter when Al Franken and Tom Davis, from the explosive series "Saturday Night Live," appeared in March.

Franken and Davis gave the audience many things to laugh about during mid-term anxiety. A variety of jokes were told from college life to newsreporting; the draft; to the present presidential race.

They have appeared for five years on Saturday Night Live and Glassboro was their first gig.

IT'S FRANKEN AND DAVIS''

CRYSTAL SHIP DOCKS AT GSC

Crystal Ship dropped anchor in the student center ballroom in March and played to a full house.

Captain Joe Tag and his crew gave the audience their rendition of the Doors. Some original tunes performed by the band included "The Changeling," "My Eyes Have Seen You," "The Soft Parade" and many more.

The usual Doors' hits played were "Light My Fire," "Riders on the Storm," and "Love Me Two Times."

"I hope you people had a good time," an exhausted Tag said.

CONCERT CHOIR

The Concert Choir under the celebrated direction of Mr. Clarence Miller presented its annual Spring Concert in Wilson Concert Hall.

This concert, traditionally well attended by choir alumni was also a welcome home performance for the choir after its recent tour of Lancaster, Pa.

A variety of music and talent was featured in the program, including Leonard Bernstein's choruses from "The Lark," "Fiddler on the Roof," G.F. Handels "Haste Thee," and much more.

The 47-member Concert Choir, are all students at Glassboro which included 25 voice majors, 15 instrumental majors and seven music majors.

“EDUCATION IS

THE KEY TO LIFE"

"Education is the key to life" was the theme of the Black Arts Festival, which brought a unified atmosphere to all GSC students.

The festival was sponsored by the 22-member Black Cultural League. It's goal was to give college students a chance to become more involved and aware of themselves.

Activities included a poetry reading session where Milton Murray of the Equal Opportunity Fund (EOF) spoke on the aspects of the business world; a minority business conference where all facets of the business field were discussed.

The Student Activities Board contributed to the festival with the showing of two films, "Blue Collar" and "Richard Pryor, Live in Concert," featuring famous black comedian Richard Pryor.

Breakwater, also sponsored by SAB and the highlight of the festival, brought the sound of soul and disco into the Student Center Ballroom before a crowd of 200.

Also part of the festival was a drive to raise funds for Leukemia research and an "Educational Forum" featuring Dr. Gary Hunter of the History department.

A black women's day was held with a fashion show featuring models from Drexel University's school of design.

WGLS also took part in the festival by playing soul music all day on Saturday. A disco dance was held that day, which attracted over 100 people.

The festival ended with a lecture by Lennox Mynes, a New York attorney, and a steppin' show, featuring Alpha Kappa Alpha, Alpha Phi Alpha, Phi Beta Sigma and The Lampados Club of GSC Omega Psi Phi.

JOFFREY II: BALLET'S FINEST

When the Joffrey II dancers came to Glassboro State College, they dazzled and conquered the hearts and imagination of their audiences with a freshness and vitality difficult to match.

Performing in major cities across the United States this energetic and versatile young company has earned universal acclaim from audiences and critics alike.

The expressive Joffrey II dancers, under the artistic directions of Sally Brayley Bliss, is the resident company at Brooklyn College in New York. The professional program is designed to prepare the dancers for solo roles in the Joffrey Ballet.

The small classic ballet company was founded in 1969.

THE TEMPEST STALKS GSC

An exuberant performance was given by young actors and actresses of tomorrow as they performed, in their production of the "Tempest" in the Tohill Auditorium in April.

Alan Harris as Caliban, the half fish/half man creature, stalked Prospero's Island in the GSC production.

The "Tempest" was GSC's first major production of the year and was presented by our own Campus Players.

“REFLECTIONS”

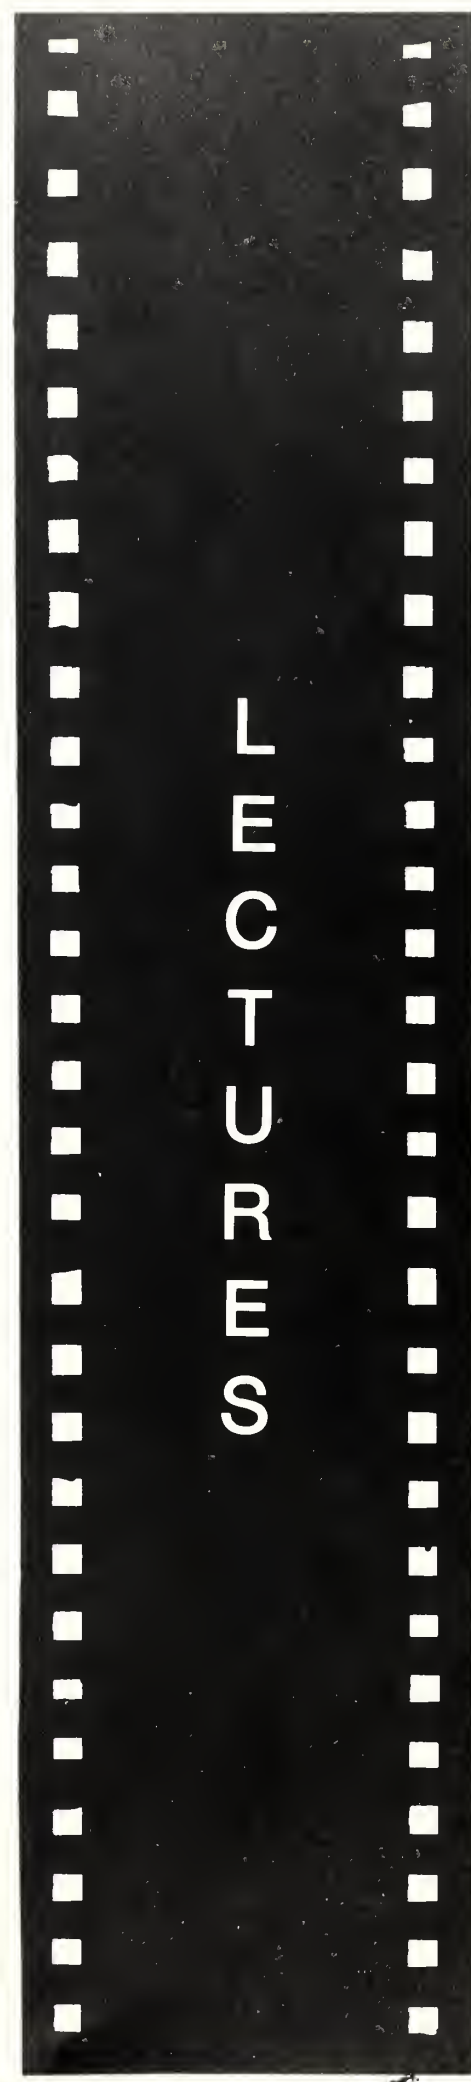

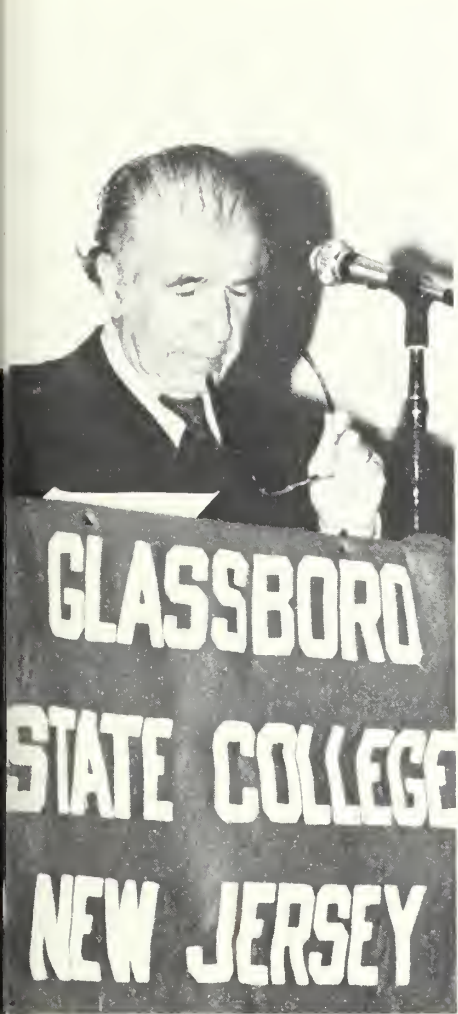

The 1980 Dance Ensemble, held in the Tohill Auditorium, expressed creative and artistic dancing by several colleges.

Glassboro State College gave an exciting display of dancing in “Images and Dimensions Within.” Four female performers danced in front of wooden figures, adding touches of tumbles and arm movements.

“Reflections” was another dance given by Glassboro. It was a musical version of Jesse Colin Young and was about a girl who falls in love but leaves her lover for another man.

The night was a rainbow of colors and a world of delight for everyone.

“FACING THE 80’s”

GSC's Public Relations Student Society of America held its Third Annual Spring Communications Conference in April.

The society, sponsored by its parent chapter Public Relations Society of America, featured many business communicators who focused on the theme “Facing the 80's: Personal Communications.”

Patrick Jackson, President of PRSA, was the luncheon's keynote speaker who stressed the concept of human relations, an essential segment of PR that should be practiced more and more.

The conference also provided group and individual sessions on techniques for interviewing, publicity and you, spokesperson PR, male and female dress for success, public speaking and crisis communications.

For many seniors, it was their final public relations event before entering the job market.

"T.V. NEWS AND YOU"

"Sixty-eight percent of the American people get all of their news from television news." This was the startling fact that Dick Sheeran opened his speech with at the Management Institute Newsmaker Luncheon in March.

The extremely large crowd of administrators, teachers, businessmen, newspaper editors and reporters, and other interested people listened to what the anchorman for KYW-TV 3 had to say about the topic, "TV News and You."

Sheeran explained that the difference between the newspaper news and the television news is that printed news deals basically with the facts, whereas television news is only complementary to the newspaper medium.

As he entered the question and answer portion of the talk, Sheeran was asked whether or not television will ever be 24 hours and whether or not N.J. should have its own major network television station.

As to 24 hour news television, Sheeran felt that it would not happen in the near future, at least for the major networks, but maybe for cable television. Because it would cost millions of dollars for New Jersey to have its own major network station, Sheeran felt it probably would not happen.

The last question asked of anchorman Dick Sheeran was from a woman who wanted to know why they could not have the weather on the 11 o'clock news first. Sheeran said that having the weather first would be impossible. "Obviously people would only watch the weather and go to bed," Sheeran concluded.

This year's Management Institute Fall Dinner took place in the Student Center Ballroom in September. September.

The guest speaker was James Binns, Chairman of the Board of Armstrong World Industries, Inc.

"The Three R's that Threaten America's Future" was the topic he spoke on. He stated that the Three R's used to be Risk, Reward, and Regulation. But as times changed so did the R's, which now are Risklessness, Redistribution, and Regulation of the people by the government.

"Make the best of what you've got, don't be ashamed of what you've got, be ashamed of failure" was Binns' message to the youth of today.

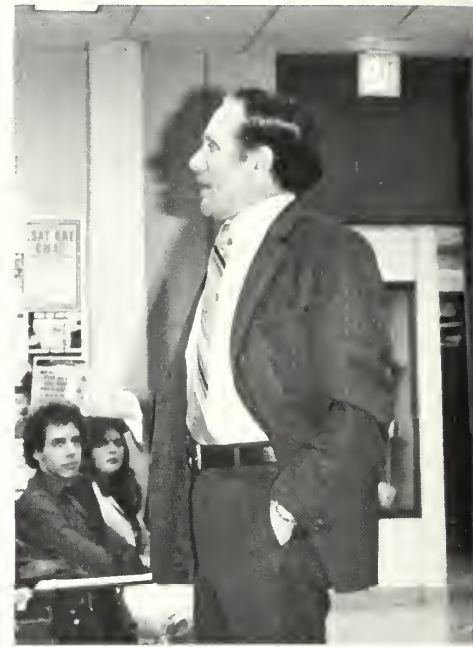

Binns wanted to recognize all of the students in the audience through his message by asking them to stand, surprisingly they made up half of the attendants.

IRANIAN AND ISRAELI CONSULTANTS

Israel Consulate General Asher Naim described his country as an island of democracy alone in the troubled political seas of the Middle East, during a lecture in Robinson Hall.

Naim said there are two main issues prevailing in the Middle East: the instability of the governments of most countries there, and the "Palestinian question."

Born in Liberia, Naim immigrated to Israel in 1944, and worked as a journalist for an Israeli newspaper.

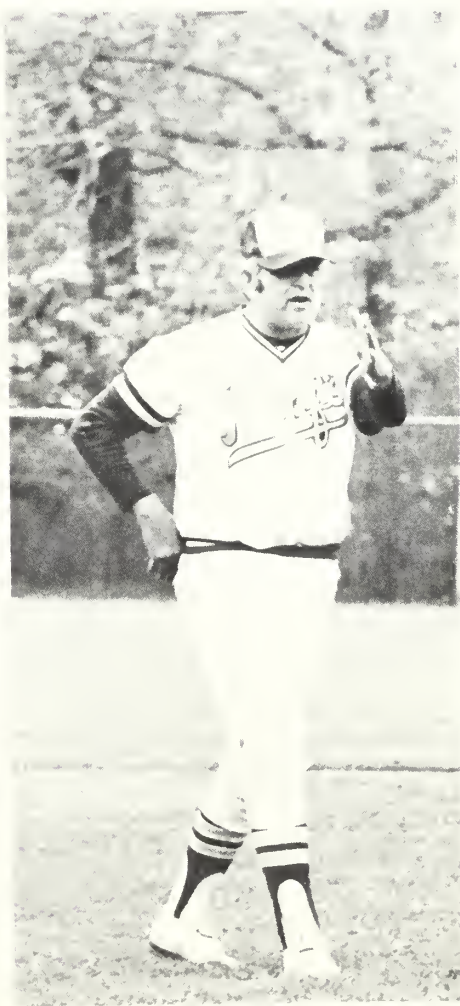

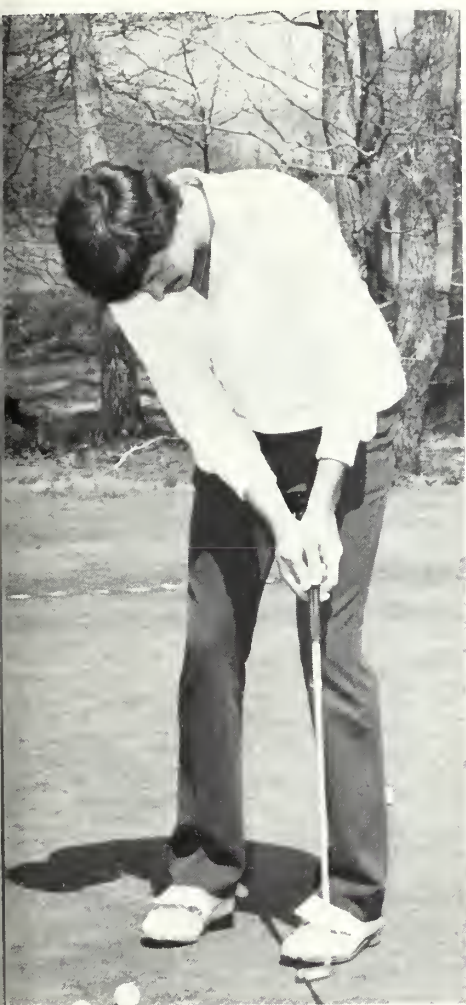

TELL IT LIKE IT IS ...

Over 300 days have passed and the relations between Iran and the United States are still under great stress. Iranian Revolutionary leader Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini has not yet come to a conclusion concerning the fate of the 52 American hostages, that are still being held in captivity in Iran.

Glassboro State College students had a rare insight into why the American hostages are still being held captive there, when former Iranian Ambassador to the U.N. Fereydoz Heveyda, spoke about the sensitive subject in April in the student center ballroom.

S P O R T S

A HOLE IN ONE

Defeating the United States Military Academy twice in one week, each time by one stroke, highlighted the 1980 Prof golf season.

Richard Wackar's linksmen outstroked the Cadets in an extra-hole playoff in the 31st Metropolitan Golf Tournament for a fifth place finish. Three days later the Boro edged Army in a triangular match won by Ramapo.

Glassboro finished the season with an 11-3 record, and were 7-3 in the conference.

The pros placed second in the NJSCAC championship led by the clutch performances of sophomore Scott Elwell (76) and senior Ted Staats (77), who placed third and fourth respectively in the individual medalist competition.

GAME, SET, MATCH

Team success was a priority over individual accomplishment, according to Dr. Leonard Serfustini, coach of the 1980 NJSCAC tennis champions.

"These are real fine student-athletes whose dedication and intensely competitive style developed into fine team unity," Serfustini said.

An undefeated conference log of 6-0 and a first-time ever-victory over Rider highlighted the 12-3 season.

In addition, Tom Vrana won the state singles title, while senior Joe Defranco teamed up with Ron Brasfield to capture the NJSCAC doubles championship. Defranco was named the team's most valuable player.

Other players contributing to the team's success included: Mark Rueblinger who shared the top singles position with Vrana, senior captain, Vince Loveland (No. 5) and Dom Massaro (No. 6).

Serfustini is looking towards junior varsity players Lou Laste, Dave Costelle and Andy Laba to step into full-time duty next spring.

"They are a fine nucleus to work around," Serfustini added.

PROFS CAPTURE NCAA DIV. III CHAMPIONSHIP

After settling for second place for two consecutive years, the Prof track and field team captured the NCAA Div. III Championship and brought home 12 All-American honors in the process.

Olympic Trials qualifier Mike Juskus won his fifth All-American honor by capturing the Div. III Championship and placing eighth in the Div. I Championship. Juskus also placed second in both the Penn Relays and IC4A's Championships.

Other Prof National Champions include Derick Adamson (3,000-meter steeple-chase), Tavo Rivera (800-meter run), and Leon Devero (new 110-meter high hurdles record holder).

Dave Hadley closed out his career with a second place finish in the 400-meter dash. Distance ace Jack Kruse placed third in the 10,000-meter run, while Lenny Hernandez set a freshman record in the 3,000-meter steeplechase event. Clayton Davis ran sixth in the 110-meter high hurdles.

It was a record setting year for coaches Fritz's and Moore's, runners and fieldmen. They reset at least 80 percent of the records, most of which were shattered during the season.

Besides winning the National Championship, the Profs won their sixth straight conference championship. They also placed fourth in the Penn Relays and IC4A's.

In addition, the Boro upset many Div. I rivals in the New Jersey Collegiate Championships, but finished a close second to Princeton.

DIAMONDS ARE A GIRL'S BEST FRIEND

The 1980 Glassboro women's softball team met with disappointment at the conclusion of the season since they did not win the regional championship.

Despite the setback, coach Pam Curry's 18-12 squad was supported by the heavy freshman batting barrage of Donna Weisner (.353) and Mary Brown (.352). Junior Dawn Danenhower also slugged a healthy .357 for the Profs. In addition, Doris Arch, Donna Parzanese and Emily Reed provided the Boro with star performances and are expected to return in 1981.

ON THE MOVE WITH LACROSSE

The women's lacrosse team suffered through a 6-10 season, losing several close matches.

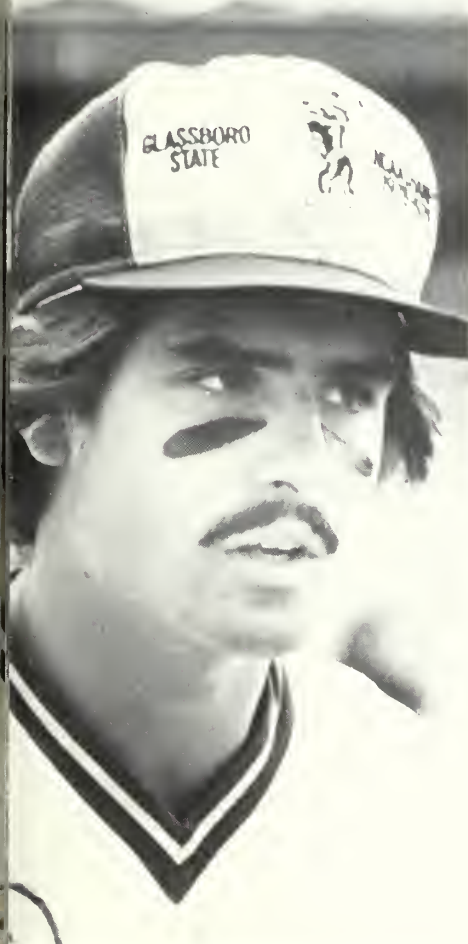

However, Dr. Shirley O'Day's players managed to claim victories over Salisbury State, Montclair, Swarthmore, East Stroudsburg, and Drexel. They also defeated Shippensburg State in a Div. II United States Women's Lacrosse Association Tournament match.

Lori Glaser took the team scoring honors, with 43 goals during the regular season and added eight more tallies in the USWLA Tournament.

IN THE SWING OF THINGS

What goes up must come down. After being NCAA Div. III National Champions for two consecutive seasons, the Prof baseball team lost in the Southern Regional tournament ending their reign. Glassboro finished with an overall record of 24-11 and a conference record of 9-4.

The team began the season well in Florida, winning five of eight games against some tough Div. I opponents.

From there the Profs came north but the cool weather did not prove conducive to the hitting attack. During the first few weeks, senior co-captain Chick Peale carried the offensive load. As the season progressed, senior Steve Murray took some of the pressure off Peale, setting a school record of 14 home runs.

An unexpected surprise was the fine play of freshman shortstop Brett Marshall. His extreme quickness, good range and strong arm made him a standout on defense while he sported a batting average in the upper .300's.

Other standouts were senior co-captain Don DeJoseph and left fielder Joe Davis. The Prof pitching staff was led by junior Norm Charlesworth. Senior Gary Hollander and junior Scott Leisher rounded out the starters while Joe Russe, Jack Edleman and Mike Marcantonie supplied relief when needed.

The Profs captured the southern conference crown but lost two of three games to Montclair State in the playoffs.

GET ON THE RIGHT TRACK

Despite sporting a 2-8 record, the women's track and field team experienced much personal success.

First-year coach Nancy Bueher fielded a relatively young and slow team at the start of the season. However, the team's desire to improve was a catalyst for a rewarding season, as nine of sixteen records were broken.

State Pentathlon champion Ethel Phifer recorded times of 15.5 seconds in the 100-meter high hurdles and 73.3 in the 400-meter hurdles. She also leaped 16'8" in the long jump.

Francis Siedlecki traded her tennis shoes and racket for a shot put and discus and probably did not regret it. She put the shot 33'4" while whirling the discus 98'5½".

Senior Cindy Totten earned a silver medal in the state championship as she heaved the javelin 119'5" in record-breaking fashion.

Other Prof records were set by Sue Glester (5'2" in the high jump), Michele McNeil (12'1" in the 100 meter dash) and by the 400-meter relay team of McNeil, Cathy Saddler, Phifer and Meg Woodward with a time of 53 seconds.

RIGHT ON THE MARK

The Glassboro State archery team completed another hard working season under Coach Carolyn Addison. Three archers went on to the nationals held at Miami University in Oxford, Ohio. Brian Hahl qualified for the nationals by shooting a 750 out of 900, Clayton Martin shot a 730, and Brad Ellis, a 727.

Other returning members are Delores Gannon, Cheryl Perina, Chris Lynch, Mary Pierpon, Cathy Anderson, Helen Kalagerellis, Anne Peters, Jorden Maskowitz and Carol Gagnon.

SPRING PANIC '1980'

All night movies, parties, all day flea markets, out-door coffee house, dinner dance, sunshine jam, all day at Great Adventure, and it's anything goes. Put this all together and you have Spring Weekend 1980.

Like every good thing it must come to an end, and it ended with a blast, with a concert by Beaver Brown.

The Student Center Ballroom was filled to capacity awaiting the arrival of Beaver Brown. "Another Boardwalk" about Atlantic City was the song that started the crowd clapping and roaring. The concert ended with "Dance the Night Away."

GETTING TO KNOW YOU

Like any new experience it will take the freshmen a couple of months to get used to the environment.

This year the incoming freshmen listened to welcoming speeches to put their minds at ease and they received their I.D. cards and meal tickets.

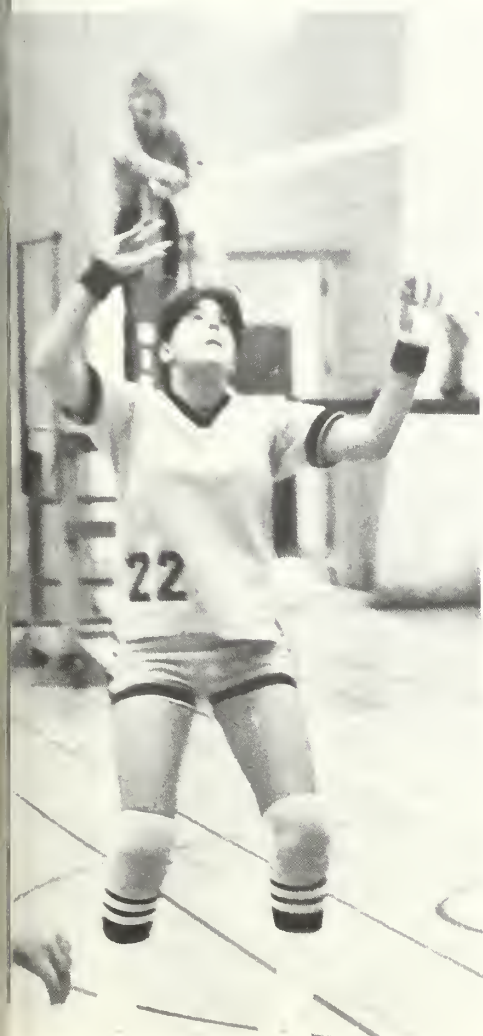

Afterwards there was the traditional assembly line that was formed in the ballroom to recruit freshmen for different groups, clubs, fraternities and sororities.

This was all an introduction for the freshmen.

GLASSBORO'S

The Glassboro women's frisbee players have banded together to form their own powerhouse in Ultimate Frisbee.

The Women's Ultimate Frisbee team was formed last spring by Betsy Storey.

They began their climb by defeating Trenton Chaos Ultimate for the state title and then going on to challenge the Mid-Atlantic region.

Glassboro, Villanova, Bucknell, and Kutztown competed for the title of Regional Champs. In the final game, Glasboro crushed Bucknell 13-5, the first trophy ever won by a Women's Ultimate Frisbee team. These newly recognized athletes travelled to Atlanta, Georgia with the men, carrying a 6-0-1 record. They challenged the Boston women for the East Coast championship, only to be disappointed by a forfeit from the Boston Blues.

ULTIMATE

The Men's Ultimate Frisbee team clinched the National Championship title for the second consecutive year.

This team of talented athletes worked their way through the country in a quest to attain this honor.

Phase I of the quest for the national title began by winning the States. Phase II was to conquer the Mid-Atlantic region. After winning the regionals, the team took a bus to Atlanta, Georgia, to complete the final phase of the quest; conquer the country.

Glassboro Ultimate won the nationals in a round robin against the best teams from each region of the country.

The defending National Champions of Glassboro won the title over Boston 12-11 in a final grueling game.

Glassboro not only walked away with the national title, but Boro team member, Frankie Bono won the Most Valuable Player award for the entire tournament.

GLASSBORO KICKS OFF

Glassboro State Football coach Richard Wackar led his team to a respectable record of 4 wins and 6 losses this year. That mark brought his 17 year total to 65 wins, 84 losses, and 4 ties. Coach Wackar is the third football coach Glassboro has known.

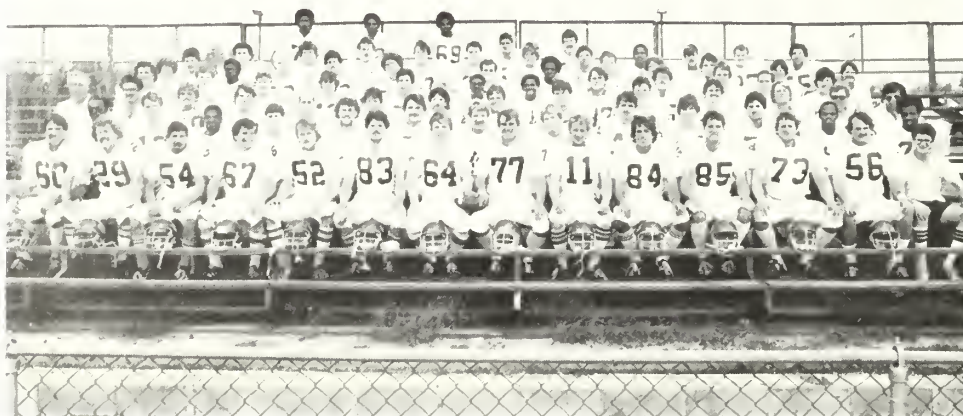

Prior to the season's final game, coach Wackar announced his retirement as football chief of Glassboro State.

In 1963, the Student Government allocated $5,000 for the initiation of a football program; the Wackar era was born. Through the help of men like 13-year assistant coach Ted Kershner, coach Wackar built a solid program. The year 1972 brought Prof football its first championship. The team finished with 7 wins and only 2 losses. The result was a share of the New Jersey State College Athletic Conference titles. The dynasty continued from 1974 to 1977 when the team won 4 consecutive NJSCAC titles.

"To me it's been a very enriching experience," said coach Wackar proudly. "Being among the gentlemen and working with them was very rewarding for me."

Once again, in 1980 coach Wackar had a talented group of men to work with. Receiver Jackie Schneider caught 26 passes for 502 yards. He averaged 19.3 yards per catch. Freshman Daryl Young scored 9 touchdowns and led the team in scoring with 54 points. Keenan Delts rushed for 711 yards and scored 7 touchdowns, while Greg Hughes returned 16 kick-offs for 404 yards. Daryl Bagby caught 25 passes for 426 yards and kicker Steve Ratty was a perfect 18 for 18 on extra point tries. Pete Kalksma led the team with 102 tackles, and Paul Tomasello recorded 8 quarterback sacks.

RUNNING WILD

The Prof harriers, led by co-captains Derick Adamson and Lenny Hernandez, raced to another undefeated (10-0) season. The runners won their seventh consecutive New Jersey State College Athletic Conference (NJSCAC) title and thirty-fourth straight conference meet.

Adamson won the individual crown helping the team to its first ever New Jersey Intercollegiate Cross Country Championship. This victory was the team's first against Rutgers University.

RUN FOR FUN

The Women's Cross Country Club has been in existence for three years. Coach Pam Curry hopes next season the squad will become a varsity sport. The average course is 3.1 miles or 5000 meters. To prepare for the grueling season, the girls are required to run 40 to 50 miles a week.

Sue Zaborsky has been the club's top performer. This junior made the All-Eastern squad and turned in a fine performance at the regionals despite running with an injury. Freshman Carley Smith and sophomore Sue Handlan provide hope for the future.

CROSS YOUR STICKS

The Glassboro State College Women's Field Hockey team posted an 11-10-1 record, capturing the NJEIAW championship and earning a bid to the Division III EIAIW regional playoffs.

The youthful stickers were eliminated from the regionals, by hosting school Gettysburg.

Patti Aleberti and Lori Glaser, the only seniors, provided the young team with experience and leadership. Freshman goalie Jackie Wise and high-scoring forwards Maureen Tighe and Theresa Turnburger sparkled for the Profs, and will provide hope for a successful future.

UP AND OVER

It was a rebuilding year for the 2-18 women's volleyball team that posted wins over Burlington County College and Upsala College.

"We started the season the weakest and finished the strongest in the sports three-year history at Glassboro," Coach Nancy Buhner said.

With exception of co-captains sophomore Judy Armelin and senior Beth Perticari, the starting varsity team consisted of beginners who were new to the team.

Coach Buhner says that next year promises to be a much better season.

SOCCER IT TO 'EM

The Glassboro State Soccer team enjoyed a successful year posting a 19-2-2 record and capturing the NJSCAC Championship. Profs were the top ranked team in Division III throughout the year and advanced to the final four in the NCAA Division III tournament for the second consecutive year.

Glassboro was defeated by Babson College 2-1 in the semi-final game, which was played in a driving rain and lasted four overtimes. The Profs captured third place by defeating Washington University 1-0 in the consolation game.

Highlights of Glassboro's exciting year included a heart-breaking 3-2 overtime loss to undefeated and nationally ranked Division I power Philadelphia Textile.

The Profs ended the NJSCAC season tied for first with Kean but captured the title outright with a 2-0 playoff victory.

The first weekend of the season saw Glassboro travel to New England, where they defeated Keene (N.H.) and Lowell (Mass.) colleges.

Next season promises to be just as successful for the young Profs, who lose only three starters, defenders Jay Tucker, Buddy Van Sant, and forward, Steve Mecke, to graduation.

Leading scorer, Pat Lancroix, and Scott Salisbury led the Profs offensively. Mid-fielders Tim Dempsey and Tony O'Conner, both juniors, had outstanding seasons. Jeff Weibolt was a stalwart on defense throughout the year as was goalkeeper Walt Gotrell.

The tremendous amount of returning lettermen spells more success for the Profs next season.

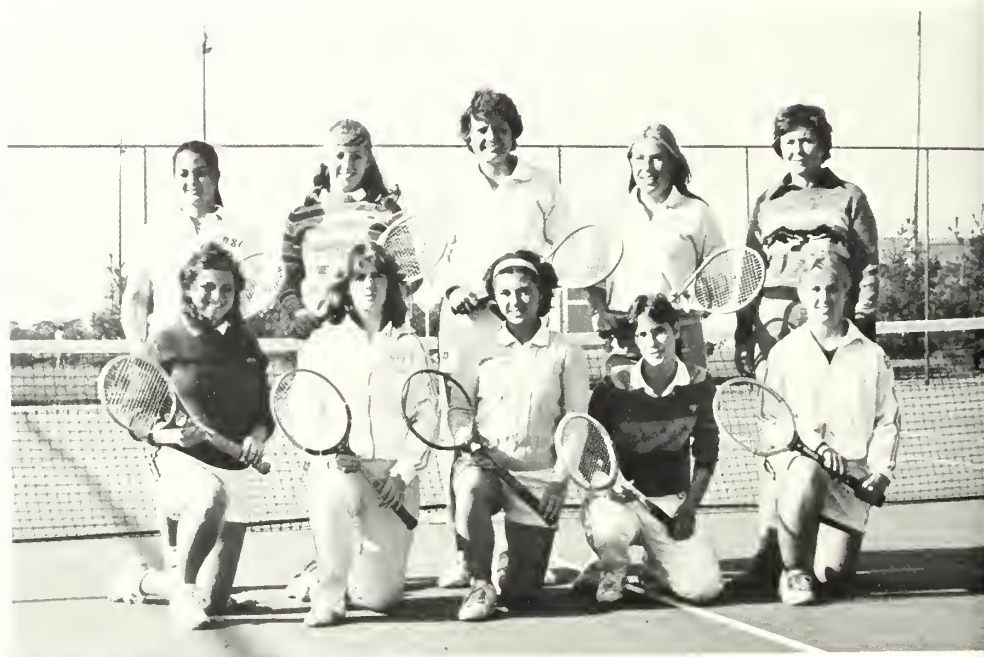

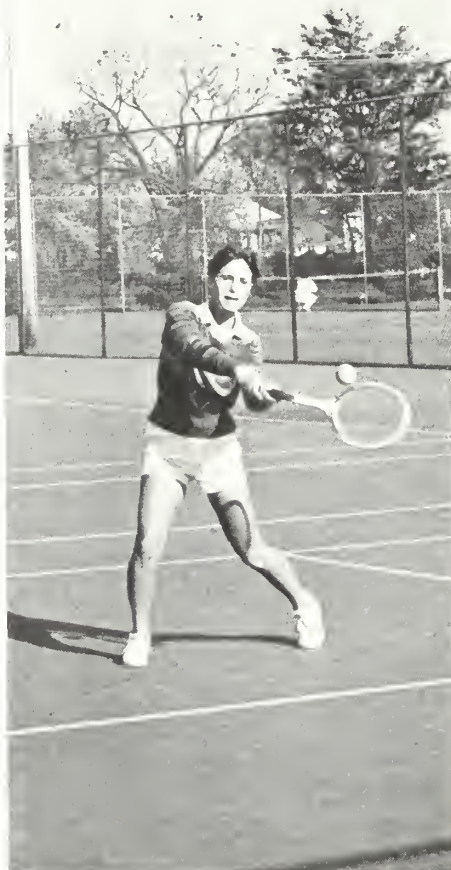

ADVANTAGE GLASSBORO

"Our 6-8 record is no indication of how good a team we really are," said Women's Tennis coach Elizabeth Bradley.

During the spring Glassboro will compete in post-season competition.

During the fall the team placed third out of 15 in the New Jersey State Conference, while placing 13th out of 36 teams entered in the Eastern Collegiate Tennis Tournament. Glassboro ranked as the top Div. III team in this tournament over Princeton, followed by the University of Pennsylvania.

BORN TO RUN

Although the winter track season is a time for preparing for the outdoor track season, Oscar Moore's runners found time to turn in many strong showings, individually and as a team.

Robert Beamon, Clayton Davis and Leon Devero led a powerful hurdles squad, winning medals in virtually every meet.

Sprinters Floyd Walker and Lorenzo Morgan show promise for the future.

All-American Tavo Rivera, Alvin Robinson, Anthony Stone and Willie Richardson also provided strong showings.

Derik Adamson led a sparkling group of distance runners, including Greg Rapp, Lenny Hernandez and Mike Grafeo.

Overall, Moore felt the season was a very successful one in which the team jelled at the end, progressing at a better rate than last year's national champions.

HIT ME WITH

Diane Spencer took over the women's basketball squad in hopes of establishing a program of solid team play. During the season personnel changes were made and the Profs suffered the lumps of a team in transition.

Scoring machine Nancy Engemann played fine all-around basketball for Glassboro. Carol Wasson aided the team with her consistency and experience.

Senior Dawn Danenhower played an aggressive brand of basketball. On offense she piled up assists, on defense she teamed with fellow senior Millie Foxworth to lead the team in steals.

YOUR BEST SHOT

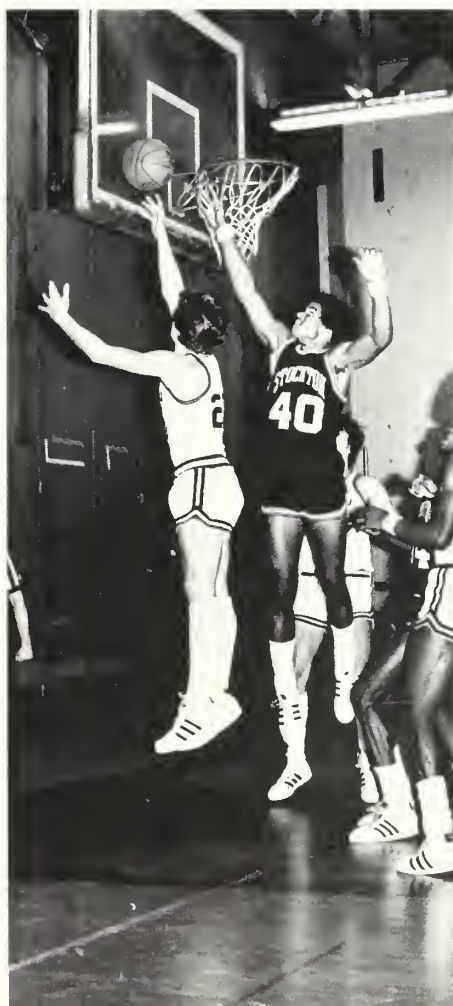

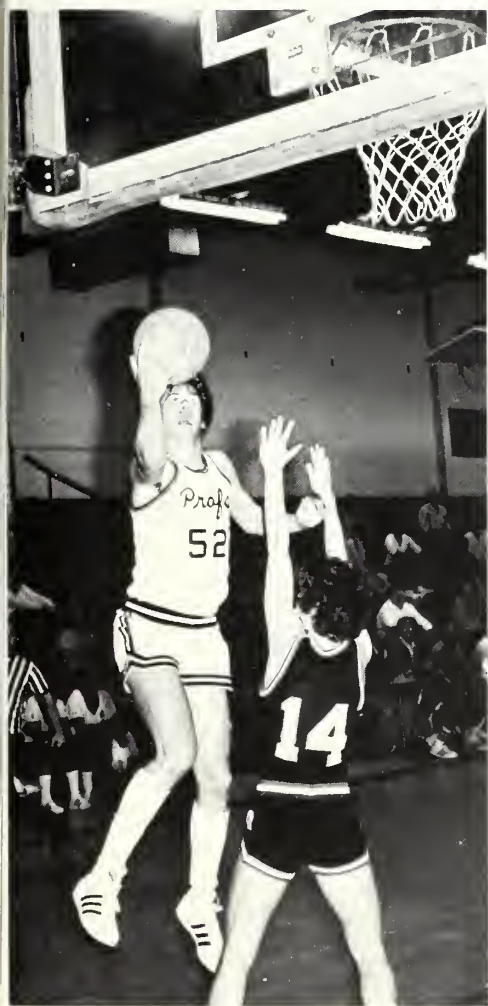

Having the home court advantage gives a team a real boost, but the Prof basketball team still suffered heartbreaking losses on the Esby floor against league powerhouses Jersey City and William Patterson. The Paterson clash went into overtime, while Jersey City escaped the 'Boro with a narrow six point edge, thus forcing the Profs into a must win situation on the road.

Spearheading the Prof attack was Steve Selby. An excellent shooter, Selby should repeat as a member of the all-conference first team.

Third year starter Chris Martin drew the tough defensive assignments and still found time to lead the team in rebounding.

Point guard Kim Hughes delivered consistent scoring and tough defense.

The biggest surprise this year was Ron James who was one of the top Prof scorers.

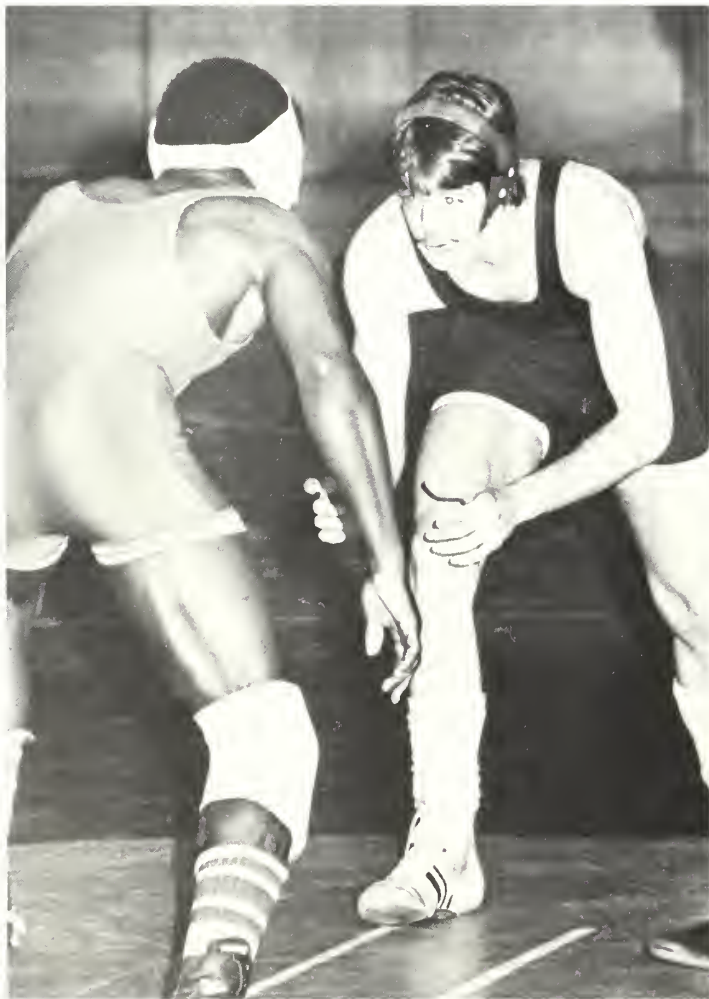

TAKE 'EM TO

Coach Don Cramer was quite pleased with the progress of the 1980-81 wrestling team. Although the team was young, it ranked 18th among 150 Division III schools.

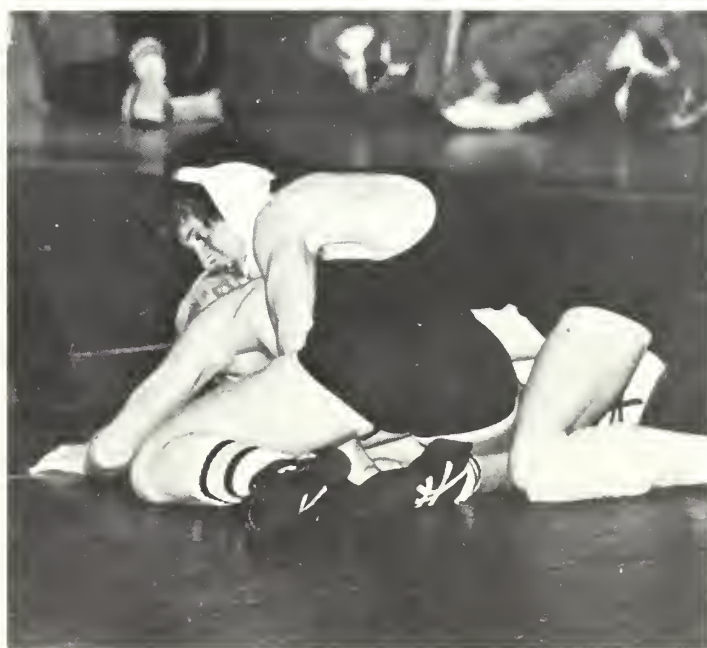

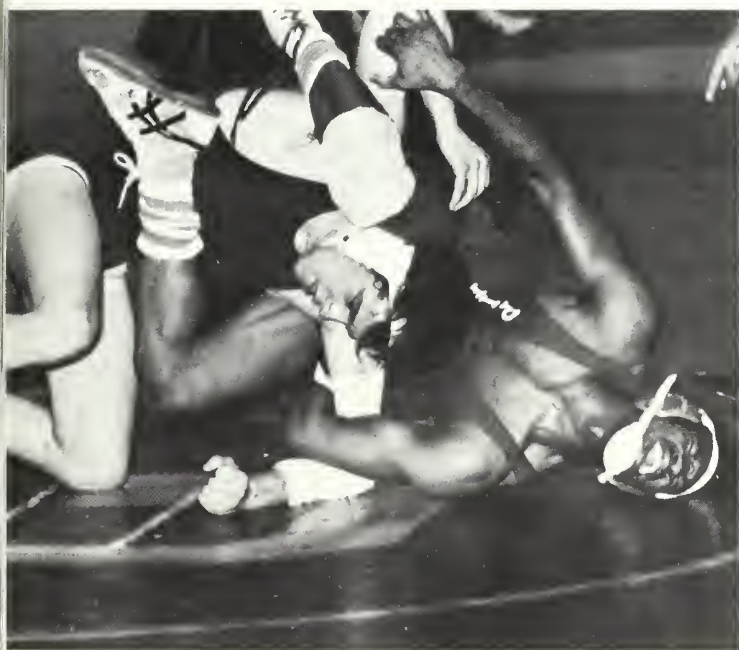

Among the ten starters were two juniors, four sophomores and four freshmen. Last season three Prof wrestlers qualified for national competition; they were Dave Dougherty, Tom Seibel and Mitch Brown. All three returned this season.

The team captain was Jeff DelleMonache who wrestled 118 with Ed Block. Some standout performers were Kevin Brockway, 134, Kurt Delorenzo, 142, Dennis Bacchetta, 150 and Brad Ellis at 167.

Heavyweights Mike Suk and Dave Chandler also turned in fine performances, as did Myron Lutcza, 177, Joe Ryan, 190 and Mitch Brown and John Hamrick at 158.

THE MAT

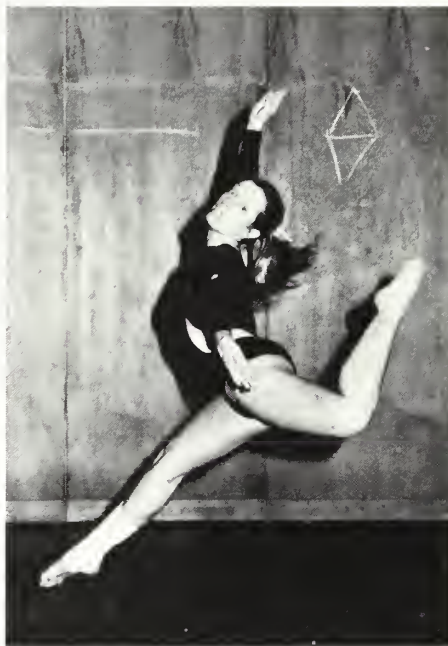

LEAP FOR THE STARS

Youth characterized the 1981 Profs women's gymnastics team which had some returnees, but mainly athletes with one or no years of college experience.

Senior captain Nancy Cunningham, transfer Virginia Zehler, an all-around gymnast and one of the top three scorers, and Denise Pfueller and Rosemary Eshleman, the top two scorers respectively, gave the Profs sparkling performances.

Pfueller competed on the beam and the floor exercise, while Eshleman and Zehler starred in the vaulting, uneven-parallel bars and floor exercises. Zehler also competed on the beam.

Coach Joyce Stumpo had high hopes for Pfueller, Eshleman and Zehler to compete in the Eastern Association of Intercollegiate Athletics for Women Regionals in March.

HORSIN' AROUND

Coach Fran Meehan has seen improvement in the men's gymnastics team in his three years of coaching and is optimistic about the future.

"It (the record) has to improve because I have all the guys (11) back next year except one," Meehan said. "This is the best team I have ever had here at Glassboro," Meehan added.

Captain Jim Timmer, a senior, and other gymnasts formed the nucleus of the 1981 squad. Timmer is an all-around performer who concentrates on the high bars and vaulting exercise. "He had some exceptional scores," Meehan said.

Other gymnasts included sophomores Gene Kern, Meehan's hardest worker, Glinnie Elmore and Rich Leff, a rings and parallel bars specialist. Freshman Ken Anderson, a tumbler, has a bright future with the Profs.

Glassboro ended the season hosting the North Atlantic League Championships in March.

SPLISH! SPLASH!

Two-year coach Michelle Yard had only nine women on the Glassboro swimming and diving team, but those nine athletes provided quality and perseverance during a grueling season of 15 dual meets.

"We lacked depth but had better quality and quality is what counts in the state championship meet," said Yard, who hoped the team placed higher than fifth in this year's meet.

Senior captain Lisa Kraft, sophomores Cathie Carkhuff and Amy Mulholland, with transfers Jean Legge, a senior, and Judy German, a junior, and sophomore Lisa Haas propelled the Profs all the way.

Coach Yard also received help from Fran Buckley (Jr.), Madeline Saxton (So.) and Jenny Luckey (Fr.).

STROKE FOR STROKE

The Profs men's swimming and diving team glided to another winning season under four-year coach Anthony Lisa.

For the third consecutive season the Boro raced past state rival Rider College, 64-49, and tied the series with the Broncos at six meets apiece.

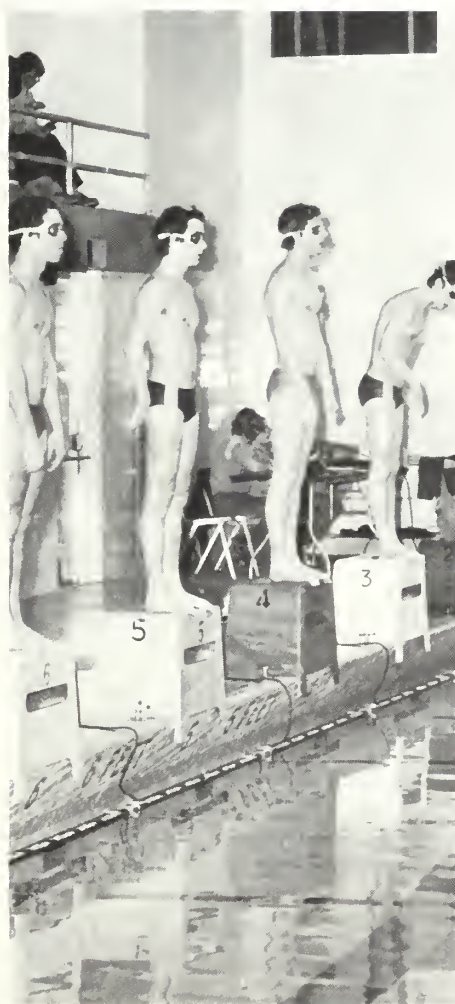

Even more impressive was a come-from-behind narrow victory, 58-55, over Division I West Chester State College, a team that lost to the Boro for the seventh consecutive year without a triumph.

The Profs placed high in the New Jersey State Championship meet and challenged several Division III schools in their quest to improve on last year's 11th place finish in the nation.

Co-captains T. J. Holt, a five-time All-America swimmer and holder of many Glassboro records, and Mark Clark, a tough competitor with another year of eligibility, piloted the Profs to another successful season.

Other swimmers who performed well were distance ace Russ O'Brien, sprinters Miki Treumuth, John Afford and Paul Hopkins, and butterfly distance man Todd Allen.

The Donohue brothers, Bruce and Bryant, Breck Ballou, Bob Traino and divers Brian Efron and Brian Bussey also provided depth for the perennially powerful Profs.

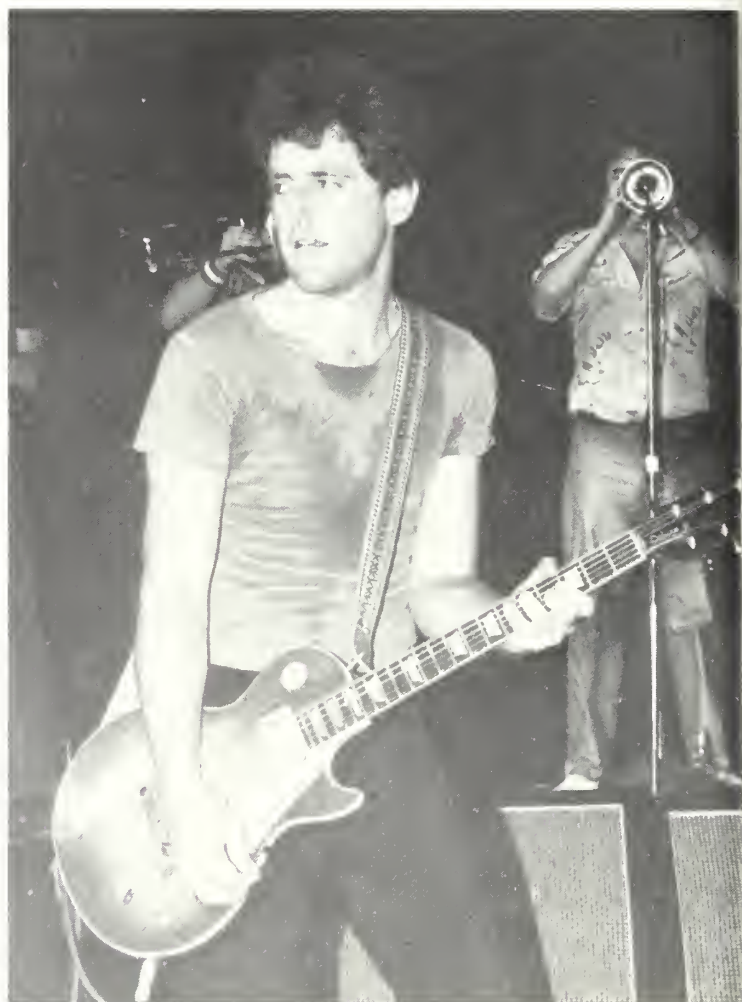

CONCERTS

Imo

SOUTHSIDE JOHNNY AND THE ASBURY JUKES

On October 5, 2400 people packed Esby gym to see another encore performance by Southside Johnny and the Asbury Jukes. This was the Jukes second performance, the first being in the Spring of 1978. Some old favorites such as "We're Havin' a Party" brought the capacity crowd to its feet, as everyone joined in singing with the band.

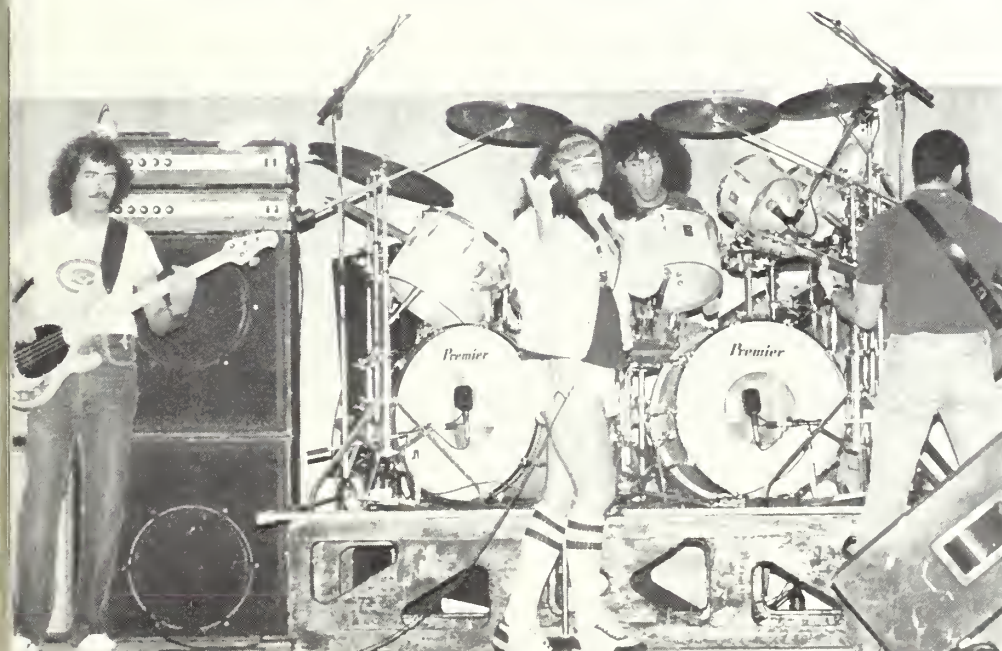

The never-disappointing Jukes brass section highlighted the evening, and made it a memorable experience as usual.

RATS INVADE G.S.C.

Flash---Student Center Bulletin:
RATS INVADE GSC . . .

It's not what you think. They weren't little furry creatures, then again . . . The night was Thursday, September 18th. The place: the student center ballroom. The time: 9:26. The lights slowly dimmed as the crowd entered the room. What was about to happen, some knew and others were about to find out. The band walked onto the stage, tuned up and took off. Peppi Marcello, lead vocalist, started the show with "Mother Fuck!" This got the audience into the groove, and when the band played their hit song "Takin' it to Detroit," the crowd was ready.

'SUNDAY NIGHT LIVE' WITH ROBERT KLEIN

The Student Activities Board presented comedian and two-time Grammy Award nominee, Robert Klein Sunday, Nov. 9, in Esby Gym.

Within the past 10 years, Klein has entertained many a fan as a guest and host on the Johnny Carson, Dick Cavett and Merv Griffin shows and has also hosted "Saturday Night Live."

His first album, "Child of the Fifties" proved to be the medium that brought Klein to the vast audience his talents deserve, as he won a Grammy Award nomination for the best comedy album.

KINDERHOOK GETS GLASSBORO STOMPIN'

On Oct. 23, SAB sponsored a concert in the Student Center Ballroom featuring the group Kinderhook. It was a night of country bluegrass and some hoppin' music.

Magnolia Road Band was the warm-up for the evening. They opened with Grateful Dead's, "Goin' down the Road Feelin' Bad."

When Kinderhook took the stage, they opened their performance with music by Grateful Dead and Little Feat.

The group also performed some of their original songs such as "Second Time Around."

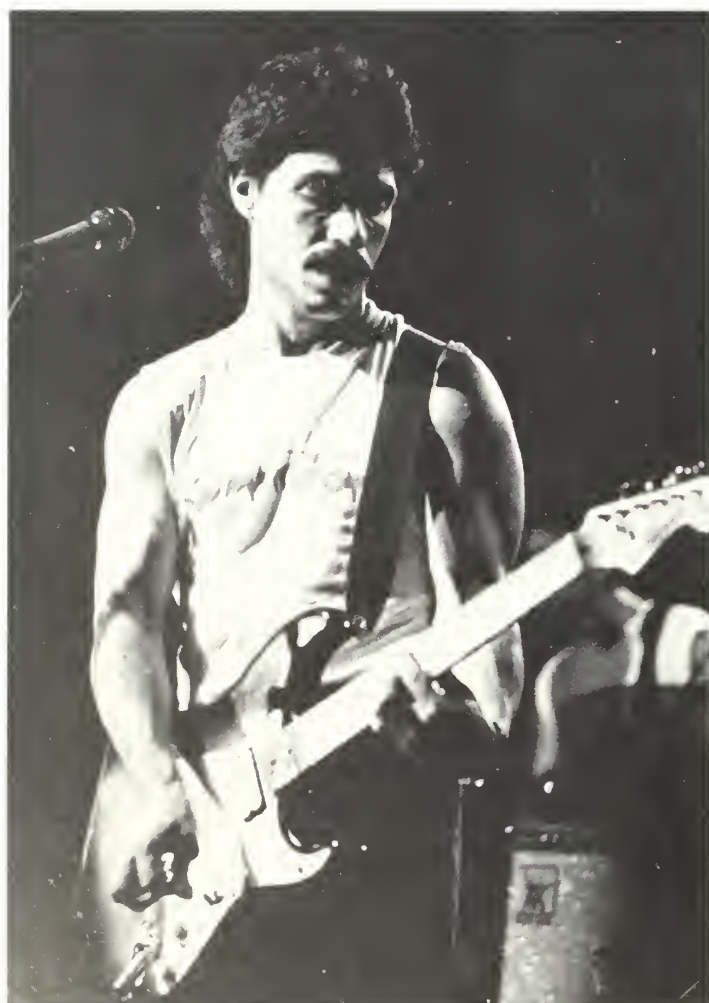

"VOICES" OF HALL AND OATES

On Dec. 8, Hall and Oates hit Esby gym with their best.

Opening with "How Does it Feel to Be Back?" the band played such old favorites as "Sarah Smile," "She's Gone," and their new hit, "You've Lost That Lovin' Feeling."

Hall and Oates also played some songs from their latest album, "Voices."

The warm-up band, Tom Dickey and the Desires," played their original songs, which included a reggae tune titled "Competition." Although the crowd was sparse, everyone enjoyed a fun evening of musical entertainment.

ONCE UPON A NATCHEZ TRACE

"Robber Bridegroom," a delightful musical comedy, was performed by the Campus Players in Tohill Auditorium in November.

The setting for the play was the Old Natchez Trace in Mississippi, 1790.

The story revolves around a highwayman who falls in love with the daughter of a plantation owner without revealing his identity until nearly the end of the play.

The cast provided excellent singing and dancing, coupled with a good deal of humor. The small back-up ensemble of musicians supplied a "down home" feeling of fun, and exceptional accompaniment for the vocalists.

The set design, consisting of a barn structure and a two-story boarding house, lent authenticity and realism to the production.

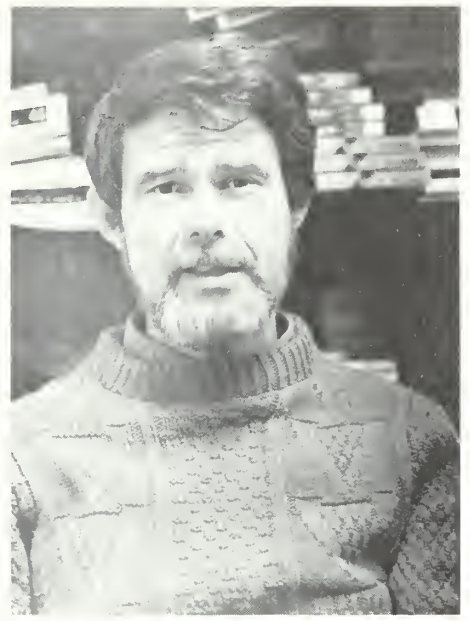

"BACCALAUREATE"

"Baccalaureate," a two act serio-comedy was performed by the Campus Players in Tohill Auditorium, Oct. 8-11.

This humorous look at college life was written and directed by Prof. Joseph Robinette of the Speech/Theater/Dance department. The supporting cast consisted of 12 students and three faculty members, including Bob Zazzali, Director of Student Activities.

"Baccalaureate" revealed the virtues and shortcomings of higher education, while exploring the relationships between a young idealistic teacher, and an older "burntout" teacher and a student who progresses through four years of college life, realizing that education is not limited to the classroom.

AM AHL AND THE NIGHT VISITORS

The magic and joyful sensitivity of Christmas came to life in Glassboro with the touching opera production "Amahl and the Night Visitors."

The production was performed by the Glassboro State College Community Opera Company, and directed by Nancie Fox-Hoover.

The story revolved around a crippled little shepherd boy named Amahl who lived alone with his mother, an impoverished widow.

Three wise men, enroute to Bethlehem, stopped at Amahl's hut to find shelter for the night. Warmly receiving the men, Amahl and his mother noticed the splendor of their clothing and the wealth of the gifts they carried.

While the three wise men were asleep, Amahl's mother stole some of their gold and was caught in the act. She explained she needed the gold to feed her starving child, and the men readily forgave her. They told her of the importance of the gifts for the newborn child whose life would change the ways of all mankind.

Amahl offered as his gift the only possession he had, his wooden crutch. He journeyed with the kings to Bethlehem to praise and give thanks to the new babe.

CELEBRITY CONCERT SERIES

The Celebrity Concert Series, a varied six-event series of performances presented by the Division of Fine and Performing Arts, completed its eighth season this year.

Glassboro State College is considered the "natural center for the performing arts in southern New Jersey," and the leader in the presentation of outstanding professional entertainment of great variety.

Such celebrated persons as Marcel Marceau, Victor Borge, Sir Michael Redgrave, and Dizzy Gillespie have graced Wilson's Concert and Recital halls in the past five years.

The Detroit Symphony, Vienna Boys Choir, and the Royal Ballet of Flanders are just a few of the many talented groups who have made the Celebrity Concert Series a much awaited event at GSC.

The Series is funded primarily by the Mobil Oil Company, private contributors, and Series subscribers.

“BARBER OF SEVILLE”

On October 6, in the Wilson Concert Hall, the Goldovsky Grand Opera Theater presented Rossini's masterpiece, "The Barber of Seville."

The story evolves around the relationship between a young Spanish nobleman, Count Almavia, and the lovely ward of a wealthy physician who also intends to marry her. The Count's former valet, now a barber, helps him convince Rosina of his love, and to save her from marrying Dr. Bartolo.

The imaginative sets and colorful costumes accentuated the small cast of characters. Soprano Daisy Newman was vibrant and delightful as Rosina, she added a flair and distinction to the humorous performance.

The company of fifty, with outstanding singers and orchestra, was staged and conducted by Goldovsky, whose name is synonymous with opera itself. A founder of the New England Opera Theater, Goldovsky is currently the head of the opera department of the highly regarded Curtis Institute, and is also the author of several books on opera.

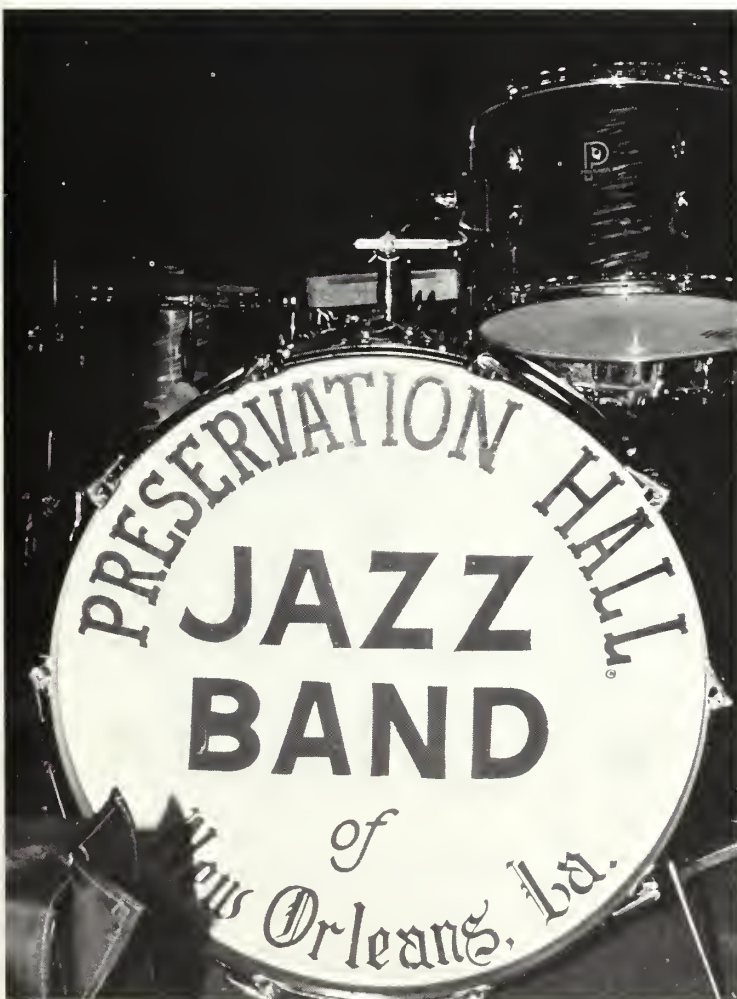

NEW ORLEANS BLUES

The Preservation Hall Jazz Band livened Wilson Concert Hall in November with some New Orleans style music.

All numbers performed were spontaneous and easily identifiable. The 8-piece band was billed as playing lively, upbeat New Orleans jazz which combines blues, marches, quadrilles, ragtime and spiritual music.

With a burst of excitement the band entered into their finale by parading throughout the audience.

LIONEL HAMPTON

The Diane Hull Dance Company with Lionel Hampton appeared Nov. 25, at GSC's Wilson Concert Hall.

The multi-talented and vivacious Hampton performed on drums, sang and conducted a 15 piece band composed of the best jazz musicians in the U.S.

The Diane Hull Dance Company first appeared with Hampton in 1979. In the Company are 12 of the most talented young dancers in the Delaware Valley.

A large portion of the performance consisted of music from the swing era.

"THE REMARKABLE AEOLIANS"

In keeping with the fine line-up presented thus far by the Celebrity Concert Series, the Aeolian Chamber Players gave their sensitive interpretation of both traditional and contemporary music in Wilson Concert Hall, Dec. 8.

The Aeolian Chamber Players was formed in 1961 by Lewis Kaplan to present works for strings, winds, and piano. The first permanent ensemble of its kind, the Aeolians won international praise for their unique programs featuring great works from the past, along with many works expressly written for the group.

Their repertoire includes the great trios of Beethoven, Brahms, Mozart and Bartok. Approximately 100 pieces have been written for the group, including works by many of the world's greatest living composers.

They have toured extensively both here and in Europe and have, since 1964, been the resident ensemble at the Bowdoin College Summer Festival in Brunswick, Maine.

LECTURES AND EVENTS

GOLDEN JEWRY CONFERENCE

The GSC Hillel Club welcomed Cherie Bank of WCAU to the Golden Jewry Conference held in the student center ballroom on Oct. 5.

Poised and sharply attired, Miss Bank spoke to the primarily Jewish audience on her thoughts about being Jewish and how it affected her job as a news commentator.

Three other presentations were given by Evelyn Levitt, Meyer Bushmann and Dr. Josephine Knopp. Levitt discussed various cults, such as the Moon organization and Scientology. Bushmann spoke in the relation of politics to the treatment of Jews, and Knopp dealt with the way Jews have been portrayed in the media. Such programs as "Holocaust" and "Playing for Time" were considered by Knopp to be misrepresentations of Jews in general.

VOYAGE ON THE NAVSTAR

Marvin Creamer, whose 92-day voyage aboard the 39-foot sloop Navstar made news world wide, was the featured speaker at the Newsmaker Luncheon in the student center, Nov. 12.

Creamer discussed his 8,000 mile voyage, which was made without the use of any navigational instruments.

In an age of sophisticated electronic navigational aids and satellite systems, Creamer's voyage marks one of the rare times since Columbus that sailors have crossed the Atlantic with only the stars to guide them.

A retired Glassboro State College geography professor, Creamer taught from 1948 until 1977, when upon his retirement in 1977, he was made Professor Emeritus and was awarded an honorary doctorate by the College in June of 1980.

In addition to his 1980 voyage on the Navstar, Creamer sailed the Scotia round trip from Cape May to Ireland.

CONSUMER ADVOCATE

Consumer Advocate Ralph Nader launched an attack on big business and oil companies, from the student center ballroom in November.

The main topic of his discussion was the oil monopolies versus the energy consumers.

He stated that by the year 2030, this country could be totally converted into solar energy power. Nader also outlined the problems of nuclear power, and discredited its usefulness, highlighting its destructive possibilities. Nader left some interesting booklets such as "Who Runs Congress?", "People Power," and "Cub," (Citizen Utility Board), in the library for future use by all students.

In a lecture and film presentation sponsored by the Puerto Rican Students In Action, Jose Benitez, Director of the Office of Puerto Rico in Pennsylvania discussed the industrialization process and the present economy of Puerto Rico.

The island was often viewed as having a dismal per capita income of $118 per year, poor health conditions, and a hard labor force. However, many changes have taken place.

Benitez spoke of 'Operation Bootstrap,' which has allowed for private industry to set up subsidiaries in Puerto Rico.

As the 10th largest dollar market, the fifth largest consumer of U.S. goods, and pharmaceutical capital of the world, Puerto Rico offers many opportunities in electronics, computer science, law and biology due to such industrial expansion.

With its renowned tropical climate and extraordinary blend of Spanish culture, Puerto Rico has come of age.

PUERTO RICO COMES OF AGE

“35 BEST ADS”

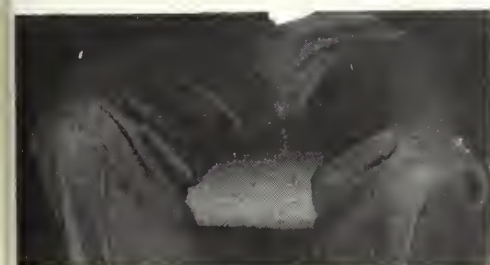

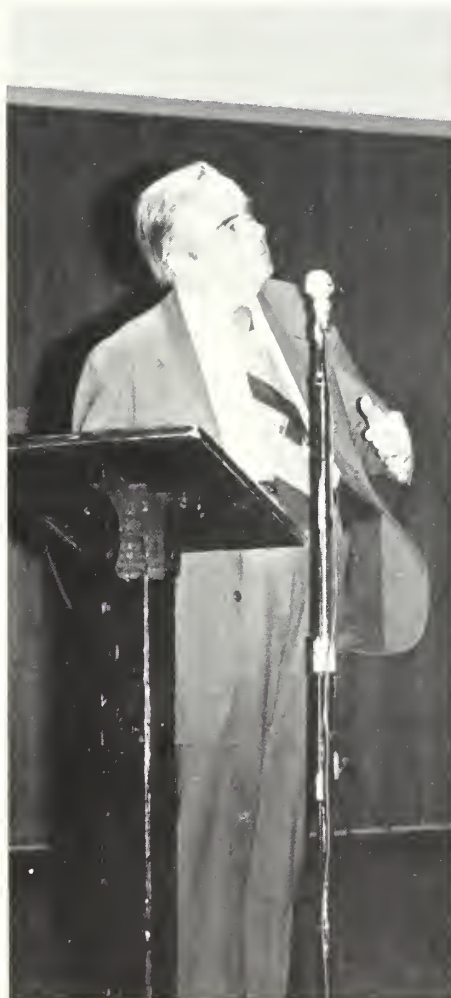

Jack Graham discussed the 35 best ads in the student center ballroom in November.

Some of the ads discussed were from the Xerox, Kraft, 7-Up, and Marlboro corporations.

The key to the success of these ads lies in the clarity of the copy, eyecatching photos, and of course, the reliability of the product.

Among the top ten best ads or campaigns of all time in the voting was the indelible Clairol campaign with its tantalizing headline and wholesome models, giving respectability to hair color.

High on the list are United Air Lines' Friendly Skies, and Kellogg's "Best to You Each Morning," followed by Polaroid's consistent output, and the Sears drive through the years for a new class image.

PUERTO RICAN CULTURE IS ALIVE AT G.S.C.

This year the Puerto Rican Students at Action (PRSA) celebrated one of the island's first holidays, the discovery of Puerto Rico.

LaTuna de Alegria, a church group from our Lady of Fatima in Camden, played songs of prayer and traditional folk music with instruments from the island. A dance troupe consisting of PRSA members, performed a traditional dance, La Plena, depicting the life of a peasant, El Jibaro, who was the little man on the island, but also the soul and spirit of the people. Puerto Rican culture is alive and well in GSC.

PROJECT SANTA 1980

Were it not for Glassboro's Project Santa fund raising event, the needy of Gloucester County would never experience the joy we take for granted during the Christmas holidays.

The money raised by the college through pledges and donations aids these poor families, and creates a feeling of good-will here on campus.

Project Santa 1980 began with the traditional treelighting ceremony, led by this year's director Gretchen Feldman, outside of the student center. Following was the kick-off dance in the ballroom.

On Tuesday and Wednesday there was a flea market in the student center pit, and on Thursday a New Year's Eve party in the ballroom.

WGLS broadcasted the entire 80 hours of activities, playing many songs which were pledged throughout the course of the week.

CLASS PRESENTS:

1980 WINTER DANCE CONCERT

The Glassboro State College Dance Ensemble presented its 1980 Winter Dance Concert in December.

The many colorful costumes accentuated the Ensemble's creative choreography.

The performers displayed various styles and techniques of dance exhibited through a series of leaps and jumps.

Some of the numbers performed were "Take Off With Us," "Paul's Theme," and "Sinner."

The dance ensemble is a student group under the direction of Susan Vaught.

MADRIGAL YULEFEST DINNER

Christmas in the Yuletide spirit of 17th century England was brought to life by the Glassboro State College Chamber Choir at its Annual Madrigal Yulefest Dinner, which was held in the Student Center Cafeteria Sunday, Dec. 7.

Under the direction of Dr. Eugene T. Simpson, the program opened with a Boar's Head Procession and a brass and choral fanfare which was accompanied by the members of the GSC Collegium Musicum and The Regal Brass.

Regaled in the costumes of the period, the Chamber Choir entertained guests with ancient Christmas Madrigals and other familiar carols that captured the joyful essence of Christmas.

CAMDEN URBAN CENTER

The Urban Center provides a wide range of liberal arts, fine and performing arts courses suitable for all majors at Glassboro State College. Many of the Urban Center courses are offered in Spanish as well as English. For students who are not native English speakers a comprehensive program of English as a second language is offered. Courses leading to three majors are offered at the Urban Center. These majors are Elementary Education, Law and Justice, and Psychology.

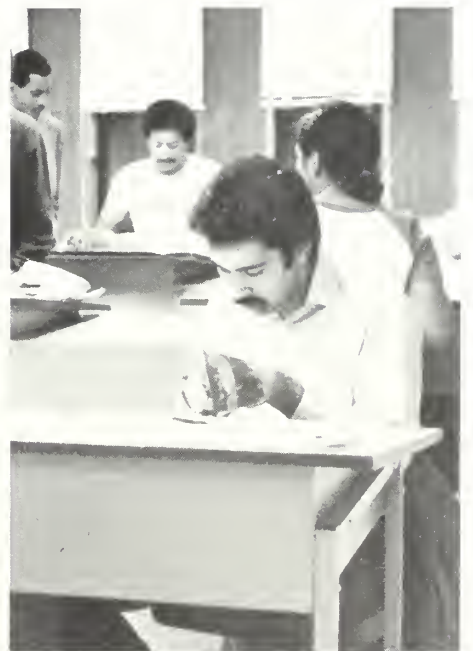

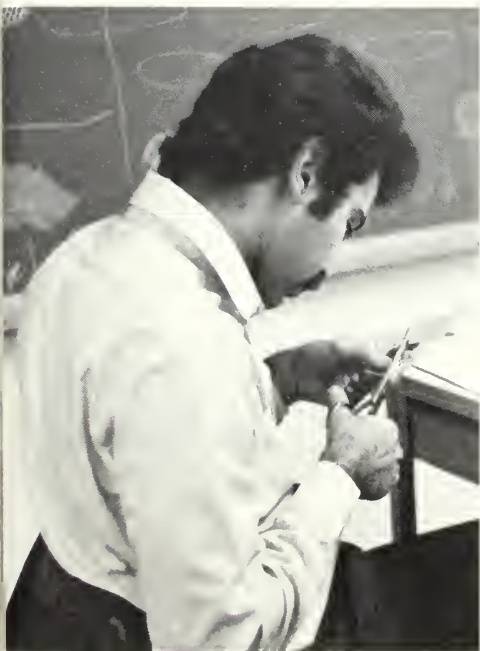

The staff includes Eric Clark, Director; Miguel Mariezcurena, Psychologist; Angé Dineiro-Weiss, Assistant Director; JoAnn Bouson, Assistant Director Development Education; Leon Johnson, Administrative Studies.

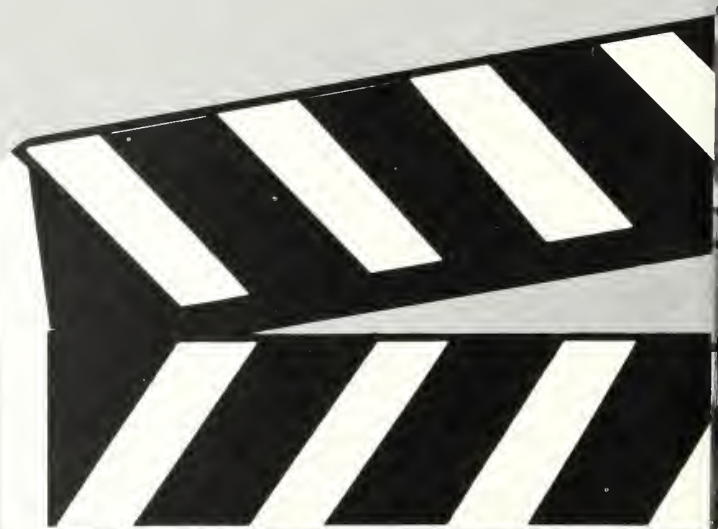

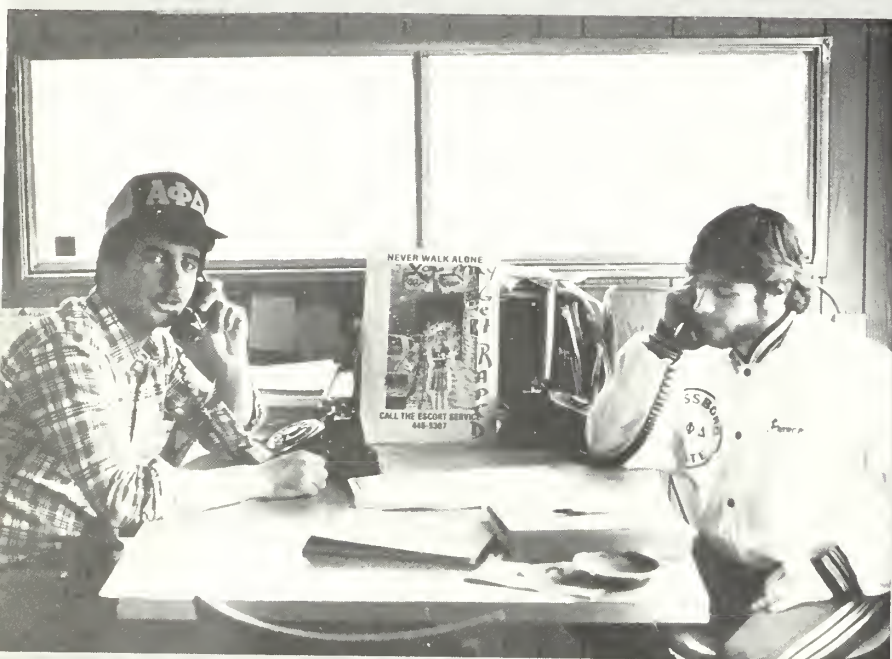

In August 1980, the Urban Center began expanding from two floors to an additional floor in the Commerce Building where classes are held. The third floor was completely renovated and officially opened on December 1, 1980 at the Open House ceremonies. In addition, the two existing floors are now in the process of being completely restored and will be completed for the beginning of Spring semester 1981.

Suzanne Brown, a 21-year old junior from Clementon, was crowned Miss GSC of 1980-81 in Wilson's Recital Hall in May.

The 1980 Miss GSC would like to study opera in Indiana and someday sing with the Metropolitan Opera Company in New York City.

The first runner-up was Robin Coonley and the second runner-up was Mary Ellen Lamvermeyer.

The Miss GSC Scholarship Pageant is a preliminary to the Miss New Jersey Pageant.

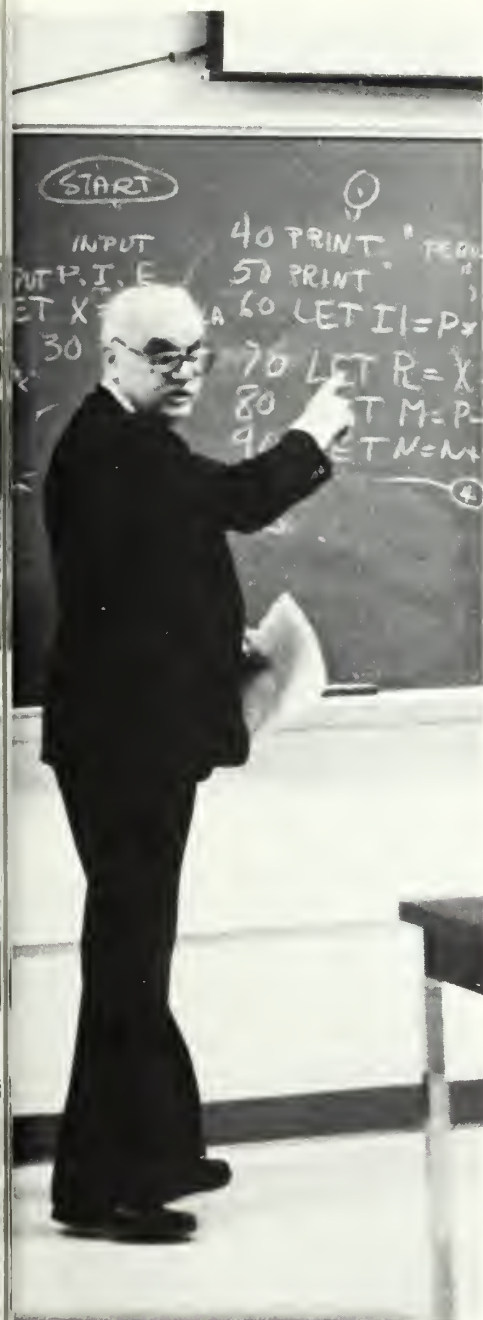

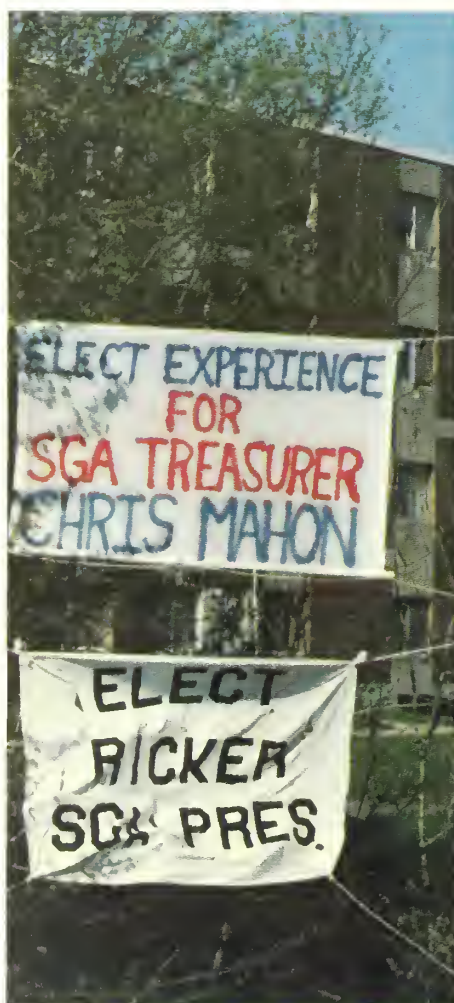

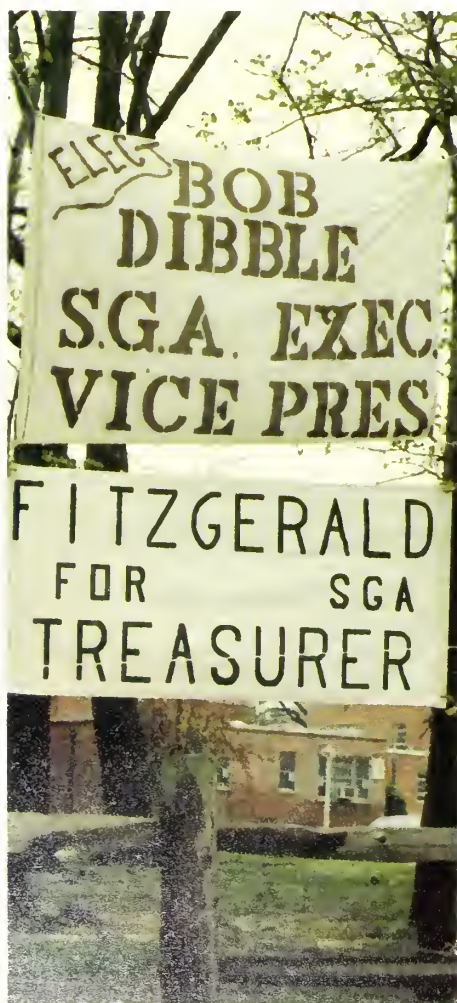

Franken and Davis, world renowned comics from Saturday Night Live, captured the audience with their charm and broad sense of humor, when they performed in the Student Center Ballroom in March.

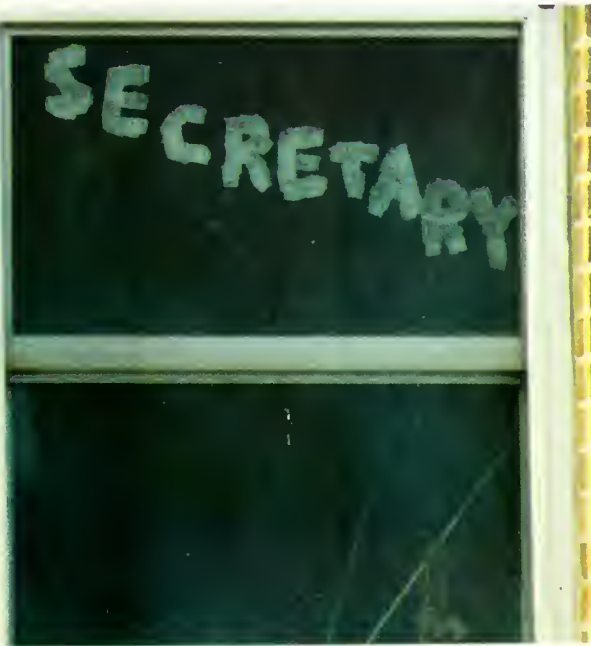

Beaver Brown played to a packed audience during Spring Weekend 1980.

Also making an appearance in Glassboro was Crystal Ship.

Dorm life at Glassboro State College is fun, amusing and sometimes difficult. All and all it is a great learning experience. You learn to live and get to love the people and places surrounding you.

There are many things you can do. One of the biggest attractions is a good game of frisbee. You will find many students out in the quad by Linden, Oak and Laurel, tossing that plastic disc around. You will also find many people engaging in a game of softball.

Dorm life is great.
